CRew Ergs in "The Dungeon"

CRew kicked off its winter erging season at "The Erg Dungeon" on November 11, then went to Carin Reynolds' & Peter Kermond's house for brunch. How cool is that?!

Leslie Sonder, on a Workday mission.

Derigging It's all about teamwork!

There was a huge turnout for UVRF's fall workdays. At Ledyard, volunteers dismembered the dock and stowed their boats for the winter, while at Kendal, where the dock had already been hauled onto the grass, Juniors, CRew members, Masters, and Coaches joined forces to derig and cover club boats and riggers. Under the supervision of Chuck, Ala, and Erika, boats, riggers, oars, and slings were secured on the trailer, driven to Wilson's Landing and placed on racks in the Hanover High boathouse. Work was fun and efficient, and everything was put away for the winter in time for private boat owners, who hadn't yet moved their singles, to cartop them to off-season digs, many at Josh Lewis' land-locked boathouse.
